"It's Elementary" Tri-Town School Registrations

Mattapoisett

Registration for all children entering Kindergarten and new children entering Grade 1 in September of 2001 will take place at Center School in Mattapoisett on Wednesday, February 28, 2001. Registration will take place from 3:15 to 7:15 pm in the cafeteria of Center School. Registration is for parents only. Please do not bring your child with you, if at all possible.

Any child born in the year 1996 is eligible for enrollment in Kindergarten. Any child born in the year 1995 is eligible for enrollment in Grade 1. The age requirement for Kindergarten entrance, set by School Committee policy, is that each child must be five years old by December 31 of the year in which the child is enrolled in school. Parents should bring a birth certificate or a notarized memorandum of birth with them on registration day. A doctor's memorandum showing the following immunizations and a lead screening blood test is required by the Massachusetts Department of Public

Cabin Fever Trivia Contest

The answer to last week's trivia question is a long list, but the regulars are (character name in parenthesis): Rob Morrow (Dr. Joel Fleischman), Janine Turner (Maggie O'Connell), John Corbett (Chris Stevens), Barry Corbin (Maurice Minnifield), John Cullum (Holling Vincoeur), Cynthia Geary (Shelly Tambo), Elaine Miles (Marilyn Whirlwind), Darren Burrows (Ed Chigliak), and Peg Phillips (Ruth-Anne Miller). Answering any three characters or actors/actresses correctly gets you into the drawing.

This week's Cabin Fever Trivia Contest question is: "Name any two characters who were at one time a boyfriend of Maggie O'Connell." For those die hard Northern Exposure fans - can you name the person who ended the show as Maggie's boyfriend (this time it looks serious).

Place your answer on a post card and mail it to: Cabin Fever Trivia Contest, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739, or drop it by our office at 55 County Road, Mattapoisett to enter. Be sure to include your name, address and phone number with your answer. We will be giving away another Northern Exposure coffee mug straight from Ruth Ann's General Store in "Cicely, Alaska", aka. Roslyn, Washington.

Mr. Bobola informed the board of the current status regarding the move of several storage items from the stage on the Town Hall second floor to the space created in the Police Department basement. Items to be moved will include several documents that need to be maintained in an accessible area. Further discussions on the matter surrounding the office move of Mr. Bobola to the occupancy of the Town Hall conference room, as his department is "badly in need of more space". Mr. Denham asked Mr. Bobola if he can some how get a list of numbers that they can compare the positions salary to, for other towns with under 10,000 in population.

"I'll support you 100% but I don't know if the personnel board will listen," said Mr. Denham. "If your running 8% below what comparable Building Inspectors are getting we could at leas have an argument to bring to the floor with the personnel and the town meeting if necessary," commented Mr. Andrews.

Mr. Bobola reported to the board that the Building Department brought in approximately $72,800 in fees last year for the all four departments and they paid out $61,000 (including office expenses for all the inspection

Rochester Selectmen's Meeting

January 15, 2001

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, January 15 at 4:00 pm by Chairman pro tem Patricia Ryan. Also present were Selectman Richard Cutler and Town Administrator James Huntoon. Neither Selectman Naida Parker and Administrative Assistant Veronica Lafreniere were present for the meeting.

The board unanimously voted to forgo the approval of the previous meeting's minutes until Selectman Parker was present and also unanimously signed and approved a letter to former Police Chief Walter Denham advising him that they had entered into a contract with newly-appointed Police Chief William Przybylek and had unanimously voted to buy out the remainder of Mr. Denham's contract, thereby relieving him officially of his duties as Chief of Police.

Under the Town Administrator's report, Mr. Huntoon noted that the Police/Communications Building project remains "on schedule," and the contractors will be pouring the concrete for the foundation of the sally port this week with the additional support for a future dividing wall as suggested by Selectman Cutler. This change from the original work order will cost an estimated $650, and Mr. Huntoon advised them to proceed with the change. "There's nothing else outstanding at the point," Mr. Huntoon said.

He also informed the board that they had a "very productive" meeting with the Personnel Board last week and they are hoping to meet every two weeks so that they might catch up on several pending issues. Chief Dispatcher Kathy O'Brien came in to discuss members of her department, and Conservation Agent and occasional grant writer Laurell Farinon went before the Personnel Board to discuss the possibility of changing her job description to allow her to continue assisting with seeking out potential grant options.

"Her job description should be changed," Mr. Huntoon said. "There are a lot of other grants out there ... she's looking for assistance in the field ... and administering grants."

Under incoming correspondence, the board received an invitation to attend Plymouth County Sheriff Joseph F. McDonough's Inauguration to be held on Thursday, January 18.

Under Old Business, Selectman Cutler continued his discussion on pursuing a Community Preservation Fund Act for the town which would allow them to assess a percentage of property values to establish a fund for community preservation under state law. The move would require both the approval of Town Meeting and voters via a general election.

"We can get this on the April (election) ballot, but we're going to have to move along at a pretty good clip," Selectman Cutler said. "We'll need to call a Special Town Meeting before the Annual Town Meeting ... the Annual Town Election is on April 11, which means we need Town Meeting approval by March 7. I'd move that we schedule a Special Town Meeting on March 5."

The board unanimously approved the scheduling of a Special Town Meeting on March 5 to approve the establishment of a Community Preservation Fund in Rochester. Selectman Cutler said state law allows them to assess up to three percent of property values, but he'd be more inclined to set a lower rate just to get the ball rolling.

"I'm thinking more along 1.5 percent ... which would only be about $30 or $40 for the average home owner," Selectman Cutler said. "That would allow us to start up a Community Preservation Fund. It just gives us some options we don't have right now."

Selectman Ryan agreed: "We may want to write up a letter explaining (the Community Preservation Fund Act) proposal ... to send to residents."

In other matters, Selectman Cutler revisited the need to take inventory of the town-owned vehicles and equipment, especially equipment which is no longer "in service." Selectman Cutler questioned a couple of vehicles which were supposed to be "out of service" and are now being used by other departments, and also wanted to know why other vehicles which were "nearly dead" were still being used on a regular basis. This applied mainly to vehicles and equipment used by the Police, Fire, Highway, and Animal Control departments.

responsible for keeping an inventory," Selectman Cutler said. "(Department heads) can just go willy-nilly and transfer equipment from one department to another. We need to get a handle on this."

"We need some type of accounting system," Selectman Ryan agreed. "They have to request a transfer (of equipment) from one department to another. We also need to tag all the vehicles with each department head present so we have an accurate listing (of town-owned equipment). We need to keep track of all vehicles that are in service."

The board suggested moving forward with an updated inventory of town-owned equipment and preparing a standardized form so that all four departments are keeping track of and maintaining the same information. They also suggested perhaps scheduling a meeting with the four department heads to discuss this matter at a later date.

The board then reviewed their annual "Goals and Objectives" list for the year and crossed off those items which have been accomplished and prioritized those remaining to be done. They also added some additional tasks they hope to achieve this year. Among the key priorities: moving forward with the Mary's Pond project; walking the remaining town bounds; establishing a maintenance and clean-up program for town-owned buildings, especially the Police/Communications

The board noted they will be meeting at 6:30 pm next Monday, January 22 prior to the Special Town Meeting which is slated to begin at 7:30 pm in the cafetorium of Memorial School on Pine Street.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 5:13 pm.

ORR Sports Insider

By Josh Cushing

School-to-Career Intern

This past week in sports at Old Rochester Regional High School there was a big competition in Boys Basketball. On Friday, January 12, the ORR Boys Basketball team hosted the Blue Devils of Fairhaven. Coach Jack Eddy had his hands full as the Bulldogs got set to play. It was a good game, as both teams fought hard to put another mark in their win column.

Unfortunately, the home team did not come away with the victory. With a few seconds left on the clock, the Bulldogs were down by five and Tom Dawicki stepped up to shoot a three. He made the jumper, but the Blue Devils were able to hold on by the skin of their teeth as the game ended 52 to 50.

ORR has a lot of potential, but they are not putting it to good use. There was a lot of rivalry between these two teams and it all started back during the football season. A lot of the Blue Devil football players also play basketball for Fairhaven, and many football players from ORR also play basketball. Needless to say, the tensions were high that night. Police from both Fairhaven and Mattapoissett were present as the stands were jam-packed with fans of both teams. Some fans from both sides were apparently looking for trouble. The potential threat forced police to sit in the stands. The event was something to watch and people who paid to see the game definitely got their money's worth.

On Monday, January 15, the ORR Boys Basketball team played the Case Cardinals. Again, it was another good game. The match ended with ORR leaving the game victorious. That night a key player for the Bulldogs was Dorian Lynch.

As for the Girls and the Boys Winter Track teams, they are both doing excellent. A pending meet at press time was slated for Tuesday, January 16 against New Bedford Voke (NBV). This meet should be a walk in the park for ORR for two reasons — one is that both the Bulldog Girls and Boys have many weapons, and the second reason is because NBV has such a small team. ORR is also set to face Wareham on Thursday, January 18 at 7:00 pm.

The ORR Hockey Team is looking at what seems to be another disappointing season. Their record to date is 3 wins and 7 losses. The team has a lot of talent and plays very hard, but their weakness lies in their goalie. They have a few people in the position, but they seem to lack experience.

Please send ideas, comments and suggestions to: Sports, c/o The Wanderer, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739, or fax, 24-hours-a-day, to (508) 758-4845.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to announce that after serving the Town of Marion for 21 years in elected positions; I will not be seeking re-election to another term as Selectman. I have thoroughly enjoyed my tenure as both a School Committee member and a Selectman. Over the last two decades I have had the opportunity to work with many wonderful, caring people and have seen our town move forward in a very positive direction.

Marion is a community that cares about all of its citizens, its resources and its environment. Together we have worked to maintain the special qualities of Marion while planning for the growth of the future. During my years in elected office I look back, with pride, to the opportunities I have had to help many people with their problems and the efforts in solving them. I am proud of the work on the renovations to the Music Hall and the life that has come to that building. I have worked with many folks in their efforts to preserve our waterfront, harbor and open space and worked on the planning for a multi-use path. As a Board of Health member, I spearheaded the efforts to establish the very successful Regional Health District. And, as a Water and Sewer Commissioner, I have helped begin the work that will bring about the necessary improvements to our wastewater treatment facility.

Over the past year we have appointed a new Fire Chief, hired a new Police Chief, and just recently offered the position of Town Administrator to a new individual. In this time of change, it is now time for someone new to step up and serve the town as Selectman. I would encourage anyone who likes to constantly learn and face challenges of all kinds to come right down to Town Hall and take their nomination papers out. The job of spend 50 percent or more of their instructional time focused in the development of technical skills. Their learning style is typically experiential and the environment is hands-on. These students learn by doing. They spend their day actively involved in the learning process of their trade. Their academic skills are often applied. That is, students learn the appropriate math and communication skills that are necessary for success in their field. Although the time spent on academic content is less than a traditional high school, the Massachusetts vocational delivery model has proven itself to be one of the most successful in the nation. Positive placement rates and widespread employer satisfaction are evidence to this success.

Why then, are Massachusetts vocational students failing the MCAS in alarming numbers? The problem lies not in the students' abilities or the vocational delivery model. The problem lies in the mismatch of evaluation method to content and learning style. In an effort to rectify this situation, the Massachusetts Association of Vocational Administrators (MAVA) is filing legislation to modify the evaluation component of the Education Reform Law. MAVA's proposal would allow the Certificate of Occupational Proficiency (COP) as an alternative evaluation for vocational-technical students.

The COP is a multi-faceted assessment system that would include: 1) a written test measuring attainment of academic learning standards as well as occupational theory; 2) an assessment of employability skills; 3) a showcase portfolio; and 4) a hands-on performance assessment of their technical skills. The COP is currently under development by the Massachusetts Department of Education, vocational educators and industry representatives. Current laws require students to first pass the MCAS before being allowed to take the COP. MAVA legislation would allow the COP as an alternative to the MCAS to qualify for a high school diploma. Voc-tech students will still participate in the tenth grade MCAS. They could qualify by earning a passing score on the MCAS or by achieving the standards on the COP. Additionally, the legislation would require that the assessment model be in place for four years before becoming a requirement for graduation.

To the Editor:

I wish to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation to the Mattapoisett Police Department for rapidly responding to my call for help on two separate occasions last month. In both instances I was gasping for breath when I called them. The ambulance was at my home in short order and the men on duty quickly had me on oxygen and on the way to the hospital. Their treatment was most professional and their manner was most kind and caring. I knew that I was in good hands. I shall always be in their debt. I am now home and slowly recovering. We town residents are indeed fortunate to have such a valuable service available and so ably operated.

I would also like to express my appreciation to those who so kindly visited me during my illness and those who sent cards and other forms of encouragement.

Sincerely,

Charles A. Morgan

Family History

Are you interested in researching your family tree and family history? Have you been wondering about doing geneological research on the Internet? Would you like to meet other people with similar interests and compare notes?

Richard Wisniewski of Rochester, working in conjunction with the staff at the Plumb Memorial Library, is interested in starting an informal local Geneological Society or Club. He has found family research rewarding and exciting, and would like to share his enthusiasm with others. Meetings would be held at the Plumb Library in Rochester perhaps one evening a month. Activities could include information sharing, inviting speakers from other geneological societies and groups, field trips to cemeteries and other area libraries for research, introduction to computerized research, delving into research on specific countries or ethnic groups including Native American research, and much more.

The library has many resources to help the group get started, and can provide a pleasant meeting place. Members of all ages are welcome, including adults, young adults, and school-aged children. Beginners and experienced researchers alike are invited to join. If you are interested in this exciting venture, please call the Plumb Library at 763-8600 or Mr. Wisniewski at 763-2538. The club hopes to have its first meeting in February or March.

Rochester Journal
The deadline for submission to the Rochester Journal Volume III has been extended. They will accept submissions through April 1, 2001. They are seeking stories, essays, poems, artwork and photographs that capture the essence of the Town of Rochester. They will also accept oral histories on tape and copies of old articles

CANINE ALLERGIES

My dog spends lots of time chewing and licking his feet. What does this mean?

Your dog is showing signs of allergies. People with allergies tend to cough and sneeze. Dogs tend to chew, lick and rub.

What can my dog be allergic to and what should I do?

Your dog can be allergic to food, fleas, articles that he comes in contact with such as wool rugs and all of the pollens, molds and dusts that affect people. Try to keep a diary of your dog's itchiness to determine if it occurs all year round or if it is seasonal. Food allergies tend to be consistent throughout the year while allergies to pollens tend to be seasonal. Talk to your veterinarian about diet changes, medications and allergy testing to determine what may be most helpful for your pet.

Midori has worked with many distinguished artists throughout her career, including Leonard Bernstein, Isaac Stern, Yo-Yo Ma, and Claudio Abbado. One of the most celebrated figures in the musical world, Midori has appeared with the Chicago Symphony, the Cleveland Orchestra, the Berlin Philharmonic, and the Orchestre de Paris.

She is the recipient of several prestigious awards, including Japan's Crystal Award (the nation's highest honor for artists). Midori devotes a significant part of each season to Midori and Friends. This is a nonprofit organization she founded that provides concerts, music education, and instrument instruction to children who might not otherwise have the opportunity for involvement in the arts.

Pianist Robert McDonald has performed extensively throughout the world as a solo recitalist and as a recital partner to Midori and Isaac Stern, among other artists. An active chamber musician, Mr. McDonald has collaborated with the Julliard, American, Muir, Takacs, Brentano, Fine Arts, Orlando, and Chicago quartets. He has also appeared as soloist with several symphony orchestras, including San Francisco, Baltimore, Milwaukee, and Omaha, in addition to several foreign orchestras.

Mr. McDonald is the recipient of many honors. He won the Gold Medal at the Busoni International Piano Competition in Italy and the top prizes at both the William Kapell International Competition and the Washington International Competition.

Sponsored by Baker Books, and part of the Greater New Bedford Concert Series, tickets are $15, $25, and $30 and are available at the Zeiterion Theater Box Office (open Tuesday through Friday, 10:00 am to 5:00 pm,

MOVIE REVIEW

Martial Law

BY ROB GONSALVES

<http://robsreviews.cjb.net>

Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon. Starring Chow Yun-Fat, Michelle Yeoh, and Zhang Ziyi. Directed by Ang Lee. Running time: 119 minutes. MPAA rating: PG-13. At selected theaters.

As a child, Ang Lee devoured the popular, time-honored wuxia novels of China — fiction combining themes of loyalty, honor, and chivalry with lots of page-turning sword-play and adventure. Hong Kong action cinema has been decidedly wuxia-influenced, which may be why native or Western fans of Hong Kong “flying swordsmen” movies may walk away from Lee’s Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon — his tribute to the books and movies that fed his childhood imagination — a little underwhelmed, as opposed to many American critics, who seem overwhelmed. The movie is good, sometimes very good, but I suspect it’s a masterpiece only for those who haven’t seen all the earlier masterpieces that equal or surpass it.

I’m glad Crouching Tiger is here, though. For one thing, it’s going to introduce a lot of people who wouldn’t have seen Hard Boiled or Supercop to the undeniable star power of Chow Yun-Fat and Michelle Yeoh (both of whom have been ill-served in their forays into Yankee films). And if you’ve seen these giants in other films, you can’t help but get buzzed watching them act together for the first time, doing what they do best, and seeing it all on the massive wide screen, immaculately shot by Peter Pau, and not dubbed into hamfisted English. It’s a good way to ease newbies into the charms of Chow and Yeoh, and the gravity-defying stuntwork of Yuen Wo-Ping (The Matrix) — Hong Kong Cinema 101.

The story is simple and classical, based (by screenwriters Wang Hui-Ling, James Schamus, and Tsai Kuo Jung) on a wuxia novel by Wang Du Lu. Master Li Mu Bai (Chow), a retired warrior, pays a visit to a nobleman friend to give him a sword — not just any sword, but a sword that can apparently cut through anything, and has earned itself the name “Green Destiny.” Mu Bai wants to leave his sword behind along with his violent past. But then the sword is stolen, and Mu Bai joins forces with old friend and unrequited love Yu Shu Lien (Yeoh) to get it back. Western minds may see Freudian meaning in this quest, but the code of this movie holds that the sword belongs to the man to whom it was given. Further, Mu Bai believes the thief is the legendary Jade Fox (Cheng Pei Pei), who killed his master.

A seeming subplot character who takes center stage for a while is Jen Yu (Zhang Ziyi), a bored teenager due to be married to a (probably) boring nobleman. Jen looks at the exciting Shu Lien and wants the warrior woman’s freedom of movement, the lethal skills that might set her equal to men (or superior to them). She flashes back to an intoxicating time spent with a “barbarian” known as Dark Cloud (Chang Chen) — it’s good to see that teenage girls’ fantasies are so consistent as to cross cultural and temporal barriers.

The high-flying action sequences have gotten a lot of ink, but again, if you’ve seen earlier works like John Woo’s Last Hurrah for Chivalry (1978) or Ronny Yu’s The Bride with White Hair (1993), there’s not a lot here to boggle your eyes or mind. If you haven’t, well, have fun. Some of the soaring and jumping bits are impressive; some of it is a little too obviously wire work. At the very least, it’s refreshing to sit in an American theater and watch action sequences that strive for lyrical beauty more than routine button-pushing excitement; and it is, as always, a deep pleasure when the camera simply stands back and lets Chow Yun-Fat and Michelle Yeoh show their stuff (capably matched by young Zhang Ziyi, who’s already gotten nibbles from Hollywood). Ang Lee has done a smooth and sincere job here, bringing a sample of Hong Kong magic to art-house patrons accustomed to the likes of Billy Elliot, but don’t go to Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon expecting a cross between Gone with the Wind and The Seven Samurai. It’s well-done, and I suppose that’s going to have to be good enough.

WHEN THE PROSPECT ARRIVES

When one of our agents and prospective buyers arrives to inspect your home, here are a few points to remember:

Greet them courteously, then disappear. If you can, leave the house. Don't tag along. Your presence will inhibit free discussion, making it difficult for the agent to ferret out the buyer's likes and dislikes.

Avoid having too many people in the house. This can make a buyer feel like an intruder. Children and pets should be housed elsewhere during the showing.

Do not try to interest the buyers in purchasing furnishings before signing the sales contract. This can ruin a transaction. After the sale is made, there will be plenty of time for such discussions.

Do not discuss the terms of the sale, occupancy, or related matters with the buyer. Refer these questions to our agent. The answers given may make or break the sale.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

Best in Shows

BY ROB GONSALVES

<http://robsreviews.cjb.net>

So, was Y2K a good year for movies or not? I'd say any year that births a list like the below ten isn't a bad year. Without further ado, then, my picks for last year's best. Some (marked with an asterisk) are already available on video; some soon will be.

10. *Titus Andronicus – Richard Griffin's little-seen digital-video rendering of Shakespeare's most disreputable play deserves to be seen outside Providence.

9. Storefront Hitchcock* – Jonathan Demme's superlative performance film of Robyn Hitchcock in (mostly solo) concert was completed in 1997, hit a few festivals in '98, then disappeared into the whirlpool created by Orion's sinking; it then emerged quietly on video in 2000 without a proper American release. In its low-key way it ranks with Demme's justly celebrated Stop Making Sense.

8. X-Men* – A summer blockbuster done right, for once — with gravity, smooth craft, and attention to character.

7. *Wonder Boys – It got a second chance (barely) and didn't make it then either — no wonder, since its re-release only reached a handful of venues. No matter. Time will validate it.

6. Ghost Dog: The Way of the Samurai* – The funniest, strangest culture-clash movie in years, with a solid and tranquil performance by Forest Whitaker and a scene-stealing scowl by Henry Silva ("What kind ... of bird ...?").

5. High Fidelity* – The girlfriend stuff gets a bit wearying after the third or fourth viewing, but this rumpled and ornery character comedy — which dares to give us a rather disagreeable John Cusack levelling with us about exactly why he's a jerk (his character, that is) — has many, many incidental pleasures, starting with top-notch support from Todd Louiso and especially Jack Black as Cusack's record-shop cronies.

4. *Nurse Betty – This got misplaced; it was a tough sell to begin with, lacking the acid that would draw Neil LaBute fans and the simplistic emotions that would draw the mainstream crowd. It's as radiantly bold and different a star vehicle as Renée Zellweger could've hoped for, and she more than meets the challenge.

3. American Psycho* – I still crack up at the "Hip to Be Square" scene ("Is that a raincoat?") "Why, yes, Paul! It is!"), but what makes this brilliant improvement on Bret Easton Ellis' grimy novel stay in the mind is its portrait of a psyche cracking apart, in all its pathos as well as comedy. If Christian Bale is not nominated for an Oscar, the award means nothing.

2. Chuck & Buck* – Flat-out amazing whtsit (one hesitates to call it a "comedy" or "drama") illustrating two sides of the same Gen-X coin: One side wants to stay a kid forever, the other side throws himself into the corporate pool as if running from childhood. A detailed and often moving work, with a dead-center creepy-yet-sympathetic performance by Mike White (who also wrote the script).

1. *Dancer in the Dark – Those who hate this really hate it, and those who love it really love it. Put me in the latter camp. Either the balancing act of grim, gray melodrama and poppy, pastel musical flights of fantasy works for you, or it doesn't. This is the movie Pink Floyd—The Wall might've been if it had allowed itself to take an occasional break from its oppressive scheme of torment for two minutes.

This Week's Horoscope

by Linda Black

Aries (March 21 — April 19).

A spokesperson would be a help, but don't get your hopes up. Negotiations are tricky, especially if someone isn't playing by the same rules.

Taurus (April 20 — May 20).

You and a shrewd partner can block an order you don't like if you work together.

Gemini (May 21 — June 21).

Don't launch into an expensive project. Wait until you've considered all the consequences.

Cancer (June 22 — July 22).

You get things fixed up the way you want them at home, but your roommate or partner may not like what you've done.

Leo (July 23 — Aug. 22).

You may be able to delegate everything, but is that such a great idea? If the other person goofs up you may catch the flak. Share the load.

Virgo (Aug. 23 — Sept. 22).

Do the work, but don't expect more pay for it. Don't get too pushy or you'll alienate a gentle spirit.

Libra (Sept. 23 — Oct. 23).

You're charming, but don't go too far. Keep a loved one's secret, no matter how much you're badgered.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 — Nov. 21).

Don't believe everything you hear. If you play your cards right you will emerge the big winner, much to everybody's surprise.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21).

A friend's grand scheme is too risky. You'll gain incredible insights Saturday without much trouble at all.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 — Jan. 19).

You could get a nice offer, but don't spend the money yet. It could fall apart by mutual consent. Try something daring with new friends.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 — Feb. 18).

Proceed with caution. You have all the facts but somebody else might outrank you and as you may already know, that person does not like to be shown to be a fool.

Pisces (Feb. 19 — March 20).

You may think you've found the best insider information, but it isn't as magnificent as advertised. Happily, love wins over intellectual analysis.

If You're Having a Birthday

This Week ... Advance in your career so you can make more time for playing. You and your team are unbeatable.

1620 and will be portrayed by Eleanor Mason of New Bedford.

Shepherd's Pantry Moving

On Saturday, January 20, the Shepherd's Pantry will be distributing non-perishable food to the needy from a new location, Fairhaven's Unitarian Memorial Church. The entrance to the new space is from the Center Street side of the church, not Green Street. Signs will help those needing pantry services to find the distribution center.

The Pantry began its services in Fairhaven one year ago, in January 2000, welcomed by the Nemasket Group which offered, although temporary, available space. Now with the group's pressing need for more rooms, The Shepherd's Pantry accepted the Unitarian Society's offer of storage and distribution areas.

Unchanged are the pantry's hours and days, open each preparing used postage stamps for resale in support of worldwide "good works." The fund-raising project is in need of help — sex and age are of no consequence — to trim used stamps on envelope pieces, sort and package them for resale.

The project was started three years ago, primarily to help Quaker organizations and activities. It has broadened since then to include financial help for several United Church of Christ and non-denominational organizations. More than $9,500 has been distributed since the program was inaugurated, much of it for peace work and toward education in third world countries.

Potential volunteers should be adept at handling scissors and working with postage stamp size pieces. All work will be done at the Friends Meeting Hall on Route 6, 103 Marion Road, East Mattapoisett. For more information and time frames available, please call project manager Brad Hathaway at 758-3579.
